

Young Adult

Simon vs. the Homo Sapiens Agenda

By Becky Albertalli

Sixteen-year-old and not-so-openly gay Simon prefers to save his drama for the school musical. But when an email falls into the wrong hands, his secret is at risk of being thrust into the spotlight.

The Buzz: This book was brilliant! The characters were lovable and the story line was dramatic and interesting. It's wonderful to read an LGBTQ book that ends well and not in heartbreak and despair. Highly recommended.

Six of Crows

By Leigh Bardugo

Six dangerous outcasts. One impossible heist. Kaz's crew is the only thing that might stand between the world and destruction--if they don't kill each other first.

The Buzz: I loved this book! Each chapter was told from the point of view of one of the characters, this allowed Bardugo to fully explore the world and the characters she created. The plot was riveting and I couldn't put the book down. I needed to know how it ended. Can't wait to read the sequel!

The Fandom

By Anna Day

Violet's in her element. Cosplay at the ready, she can't wait to feel part of her favorite fandom: The Gallows Dance. But at Comic-Con, a freak accident transports Violet and her friends into The Gallows Dance for real--and in the first five minutes, they've caused the death of the heroine.

The Buzz: A fun yet intense read. Think Connecticut Yankee in King Arthur's Court meets Hunger Games and Pretties.

A Court of Thorns and Roses

By Sarah J. Maas

Dragged to a treacherous magical land she only knows about from stories, Feyre discovers that her captor is Tamlin, a High Lord of the faeries. As her feelings toward him transform Feyre must fight to break an ancient curse, or she will lose Tamlin forever.

The Buzz: If you like high fantasy with a Beauty and the Beast twist this is the trilogy for you. Well-written with characters and scenes that suck you right in.
