

Public Computer and Internet Access Rules

- The Hollis Social Library’s public access computers are available to any member of the public on a first-come, first-serve basis.
- Computer users must sign in at the circulation desk before each session.
- Computer usage shall be limited to one session if others are waiting to use a computer.
- Parents are responsible for supervising their children’s internet sessions at the library, not library staff.
- Users may print pages to a library printer. Printing must be collected and paid for at the Circulation Desk.
- Only one person per computer terminal is allowed (unless approved by staff).
- Patrons shall not engage in loud or boisterous conduct that disrupts other users.
- Users shall not download material onto the computer’s hard drive. They may download material onto their personal storage device.
- Users shall not represent themselves as another person and/or use computer access to transmit obscene, threatening, or harassing materials.
- Users shall not access unlawful materials including but not limited to those that are obscene or harmful to minors as defined by [RSA 650:1].
- Willful and malicious damage to library equipment will result in suspension of library services and/or prosecution of criminal charges [RSA 202-A:24].
- All computers and printers will be turned off 15 minutes before the library’s closing.
- Failure to follow these rules may result in a loss of computer use privilege.
